MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

The Winter Olympics start this Friday. As a child I was enamored with the Olympics—the thrill of close competitions, the novelty of unfamiliar sports, a surprising gold medal winner, the life history of a few popular athletes. Our family watched athletes compete for medals for an array of sports—cross-country skiing, fencing, archery, curling, judo and gymnastics, to name a few. Pierre de Coubertin, the visionary of the modern Olympics, stated that the Olympics aim to bring all peoples and nations together, liberated from the ordeals of politics or economic hardships, celebrating world-class performances in a variety of sports. The games illustrate “the joy found in effort, the educational value of good example and respect for universal fundamental ethical principles.”

The Olympics have a way of bringing people together and fostering a sense of “Social Connectedness.” This ‘connectedness’ comes through a common, focal activity, during which the “team” you cheer for is the same for almost all your friends and neighbors. Even if you disagree with your relative or neighbor on many other topics or about professional sports teams, the stories around the Olympics give you “social currency” to share with your friends, family and colleagues, whether they are from across the street or the country.

Rotary has a similar impact. It brings people together from all walks of life. Rotary is dedicated to causes that build international relationships, improve lives and create a better world to support our peace efforts and end polio forever.

I appreciate how our club has become significantly more diverse in such a kind and loving way. Rotarians across the globe are focused on serving and making people’s lives better.

Rotarians impact our communities in substantial ways from helping elementary school kids, to high school kids, from feeding the homeless, to providing grants to organizations to extend their reach in various pockets of our neighborhoods and our world.

We support basic education and literacy. We seek to reduce gender disparity in education and increase adult literacy. We use our time, resources and connections to improve our environment through botanical or agricultural projects.

With service and community betterment as our focus, we work side by side with many folks with whom we wouldn’t normally associate. We find joy in these activities that also encourage conversations to foster understanding within and across cultures.

As we watch the Olympics over the next few weeks, let’s also appreciate the efforts, examples and connectedness found in our club and throughout all of Rotary International.

THE WETZEL AWARDS

The Wetzel Awards are a quarterly recognition program created by the Las Vegas Rotary Club to honor the hard work and community dedication of young Air Force members stationed in Southern Nevada. Each quarter, the Las Vegas Rotary Club recognizes five service members from either Nellis Air Force Base or Creech Air Force Base.

The winners are nominated through their chain of command based on demonstrated job expertise, personal development efforts and community involvement. Winners are recognized during a ceremony at Nellis Air Force base attended by senior command officials and are also hosted at a Las Vegas Rotary Club luncheon where they are introduced to the Club.

Through the generosity of the Club and several community partners, the recipients receive a package of show tickets and dining certificates to afford them the chance for some nights on the town in Las Vegas.

The awards are named in honor of Scotty Wetzel, a longtime Las Vegas Rotarian and a career Air Force Fighter Pilot. While on a tour of Nellis Air Force Base, Scotty asked one of the commanders how the Club could support our military personnel. The commander replied that officers and senior enlisted members had existing opportunities for recognition, but that the junior people could really use another program. Out of that conversation, the idea of a regular program recognizing junior troops was born.

Following Scotty's passing, it seemed only fitting to name the awards in his honor so that the program could serve as a living memorial to a great pilot, great officer, and great Rotarian.

This quarter's winner are:

- A1C Sasha Delgado, USAFWC
- SrA David Browder, 99th
- SSgt Allen Karmyn, 57th
- SSgt Graham Culpepper, 432nd
- SSgt Anthony Mahoney, 926th

Congratulations to them from the Las Vegas Rotary!
