Chantay Ben Shimon

Pathways Institute for Negotiation Education

Chantay Ben Shimon is our 2020-2022 Global Grant Scholar. She set out on her journey to pursue her master's degree in Tel Aviv, Israel during the height of the pandemic in September 2020. Chantay spent almost two years in a very intensive yet interdisciplinary program, and earlier this year she officially received her diploma in International Conflict Resolution and Mediation from Tel Aviv University.

Just before her graduate studies abroad, Chantay completed her bachelor's degree in Peace and Conflict Studies from the University of North Carolina – Greensboro in August 2020. During her studies, she interned at the Neighborhood Justice Center in Las Vegas where she was a volunteer mediator and also helped facilitate a book study group for Nonviolent Communication as well as the development of a restorative justice program for at-risk youth.

The passionate interest in peacebuilding and conflict prevention that Chantay carried growing up was solidified after a 6 month stay in Israel in 2017 for an internship program during which she volunteered at a public health clinic for asylum seekers from Africa. During this time Chantay was exposed to various organizations that worked at the grassroots level to build peace between people on the ground who were affected by the Israeli-Palestinian conflict, and this inspired her to pursue degrees and subsequent work in the field.

Five years later, Chantay is now working for an organization called PATHWAYS Institute for Negotiation Education which strives to stimulate a culture of constructively negotiating conflict both within and between Jewish and Arab communities in Israel (and the region) at the interpersonal, communal, and national levels through interactive negotiation education workshops.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Ralph Waldo Emerson said,

"To leave the world a bit better, whether by a healthy child, a garden patch, or a redeemed social condition; To know even one life has breathed easier because you have lived. This is to have succeeded."

The last seven days have been tough for me. My 91-year-old father-in-law, who had been in the hospital for a week with colon issues, took a turn for the worse on Monday. Previous to his hospitalization, he had lost much of his mobility but was generally alert and active.

After colon surgery, he wasn't able to breath on his own. Then we learned of more complications. They could have another surgery but, with his weakened condition, the doctors doubted he could recover.

Monday night, I was at the hospital with my wife and her family as they removed life support from her dad. Within 30 minutes, he passed peacefully surrounded by more than a dozen family members. There was so much love in the room it was palpable.

There was plenty of crying but there was also peace. Ronald Arthur Nelson had lived a good life. He married more than 65 years ago, had eight children and 37 grandchildren or great grandchildren. He was a police officer in Henderson Nevada in the 50s and 60s and then worked for the school district.

He was always helpful. He with his wife attended many events of the grandkids. He left a legacy of love and honor.

Being reminded of death is good because it informs life. It gives us a perspective on what's important. Legacy is about life and living. It helps us decide the kind of life we want to live and the kind of world we want to live in.

We all have the opportunity to leave a legacy.

Cus D'Amato, a famous boxing manager and trainer, once said that a "hero and a coward both feel the same thing. It's what they do that makes the difference. It's what the hero DOES that makes him a hero and what a coward does NOT do that makes him a coward."

We need to live our legacy. It is not what we say but what we do that influences people. We can do that in Rotary by serving with all our heart, might and mind and giving generously when we can. Get our families and friends involved where possible so they can see how we're contributing to make the world a better place.

LAS VEGAS ROTARIANS REPRESENT

Last week was the Rotary International conference in Houston. The conference theme was Serve to Bring Peace and began with recognition of Rotary's support for peace in Ukraine and emphasized the effect that Rotary's vast network has had in providing rapid humanitarian relief in the country and to millions of people who have fled their homes.

Rotary General Secretary and CEO John Hewko, whose parents were born in Ukraine, spoke during the opening session about Rotary's Disaster Response Fund and how donors swiftly contributed more than $15 million to provide Ukrainians with water, food, shelter, medicine, and clothing.

Peace is a cornerstone of Rotary's mission and is inherent in all the work that our organization does, said Celia Cruz de Giay, chair of the presidential conference in Houston and a past Rotary International vice president.

At the closing session of the peace conference, Rotary International President-elect Jennifer Jones joined the chief executive of UNICEF USA, Michael Nyenhuis, in announcing a partnership to empower girls. The issue has been one of RI President Shekhar Mehta's presidential initiatives and will remain a focus for President-elect Jennifer Jones.

A few members of our club participated including President Elect Caty Crockett, 25 Club President and Vice President, Bhaven Singh and Barbara Castro and Rampur Viswanath.
