PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

We are days away from the close of our first hundred years.

It is an awesome thought to ponder. We began so small. We have accomplished so much. Who are we today and what will our future be?

Our Club is built on a strong foundation. We have bylaws and continuing resolutions that enable us to function effectively. We have a stable membership. The club is financially sound. The Las Vegas Rotary Foundation is established and grown to a point that should allow our projects to be funded in perpetuity. We have a defined mission statement to focus our efforts in order to maximize our impact. And we have a strong and defined value system. The Four Way Test and Rotary Code of Ethics are as relevant today as ever.

Today Las Vegas is a world class city. The showroom curtain that was a backdrop for our meetings for decades was designed in 1962, midway in our history. It was emblematic of our interaction with clubs around the world. Today our club has grown and changed with the city and so has the population we serve. We have a history worth preserving and a legacy to live up to. We can't know what the future holds but we can be confident that we have built a strong organization that will continue to meet needs in our community.

Cathy
