

Sean Scruggs

Tribal Historical Preservation Officer

Today's presentation is hosted by Sean Scruggs, the Tribal Historical Preservation Officer for the Fort Independence Indian Community of Paiutes at Fort Independence, California. He lived on his reservation for 10 years, yet learned little about his culture until 2018. Sean's tribal family survived contact with settlers, just a few generations ago, in Payahuundaü, The Land of Flowing Water, also known as the Owens Valley in Eastern California.

On 4 July 1862 the U.S. Calvary established Camp Independence to protect settlers. On 11 July 1863 over 1,000 Paiute and Shoshone people were forcibly marched 156 miles over 11 days to Fort Tejon near Bakersfield, California. Tragic events like these led to "assimilation" of the surviving families. By the 1920's young children were forced into boarding schools to create a cheap servant workforce. Assimilation, necessary to protect children from this fate, led to the loss of language, stories, and culture.

A medical retirement from Nellis AFB at 20 years of service in the United States Air Force left Sean with an identity crisis. He remained in Las Vegas to raise one of his two daughters. He joined Las Vegas Toastmasters in April of 2013 to sharpen his public speaking skills and returned to running. He completed the 2014 Boston Marathon with a time of 3 hours and 4 minutes and placed in the top 10 percent of the field and became a Distinguished Toastmaster by 2019.

These steps helped Sean to reshape his identity and reconnect with his culture beginning in 2014. He works tirelessly to dissolve the barriers of assimilation and serves to protect and preserve his ancestral past by developing relationships with local, state and federal agencies. Sean states that "... each day offers new opportunities to preserve the past, protect the future and heal his community..."

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

This week was a little difficult to find a subject for the President's Message, information to impart to you, or information that will either make you think or learn something new. But upon simple reflection of how all the opportunities Rotary and in particular, our Club, have presented, providing additional paths and doors opening, I was truly amazed and thought maybe you have thought about this as well.

Take, for example in the area of literacy, Spread The Word Nevada, for more than two decades, has been supporting the idea of putting a book in the hands of every child. From that relationship, and through Community Grants, we have added to the literacy part of our Mission Statement, organizations like Storybook Treasures and Family To Family. Another example in the area of education is Green Our Planet, a non-profit that uses school gardens and hydroponic laboratories to teach students STEM, conservation, nutrition and entrepreneurship in a hands-on engaging way, that led us to Chefs For Kids and Serving Our Kids Foundation. Just think, we contribute in a small way, teaching children how to grow and prepare fresh, nutritious foods, and empowering them with the tools they need to develop healthy eating habits that last a lifetime. In the area of life skills development, we have been enlightened by the Assistance League, Andson, Inc., Nevada School of the Arts, Positively Arts, and Zion's Youth Symphony. In a broader scope concerning the youth in our community, we support, Project 150, a non-profit for homeless teens, and being introduced to Foster Kinship, Junior Achievement, and the Salvation Army.

The opportunities available in the area of service are yours for the taking, you need only reach out with an open mind and an open heart to serve and to learn. Participation and engagement then naturally follow. Each of us can be inspired by different things, all with the same intention, and what an amazing thing that is. Think about it.
