

Brenda Larsen-Mitchell

Clark County School District Interim Superintendent

Dr. Larsen-Mitchell moved to Las Vegas in 1994 to start her career as a special education teacher. During her 30 years with the Clark County School District, she has served as a school-based administrator, principal, principal supervisor, central office administrator, and deputy superintendent. As the deputy superintendent she supervised the leaders of the Academic Unit; College, Career, and School Choice Unit; Health and Student Services Division; and four regional superintendents. She now serves as the interim Superintendent.

Dr. Larsen-Mitchell exhibits a servant leadership approach with a focus on improving achievement for all students, while building positive relationships. She leads with a selfless approach, knowing the needs of the students, employees, parents, and the community, come first. She is willing to collaborate with stakeholders to explore solutions to challenges while having a positive attitude and a problem-solving approach. She leads each day with the relentless sense of urgency that our students deserve.

She earned her Doctor of Education in Educational Leadership in May 2001 from the University of Nevada, Las Vegas; her Master of Education in Educational Leadership in December 1997 from the University of Nevada, Las Vegas; and her Bachelor of Science in Education in Elementary Education and Special Education in May 1994 from the University of South Dakota.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Today we are joined by the youngest group of Rotarians, officers of the Kideract Club from Bracken ES. We are proud to support the Kideract club, although not 'officially recognized' by Rotary International, as it is never too early to learn about the power of Service Above Self. Starting early in the development of Rotarians is crucial for fostering a culture of service and leadership within communities. The pathway from Kideract to Interact, then Rotaract clubs provides a progressive journey where young individuals can cultivate their passion for service, hone their leadership skills, and eventually become active members of Rotary clubs.

Interact clubs serve as the starting point for many young people eager to make a difference in their communities, and the Kideract members are getting 'a leg up' in the process well before their peers. Interact clubs, typically comprised of high school students, offer opportunities for hands-on service projects, leadership development, and the chance to network with peers who share similar values. Our club sponsors the Interact Club at Clark High School, whose members and their advisor, are eager for collaboration with our club and its members.

As Interact members transition into college or young adulthood, Rotaract clubs (18 + years) become the next step in their Rotary journey. You may recall at last week's Valedictorian Recognition it was mentioned that Rotaract clubs provide a platform for young adults to continue their commitment to service while further developing their leadership skills. Engaging in larger-scale projects, collaborating with other Rotaract clubs, and participating in professional development opportunities prepare members for greater responsibilities within their communities.

The transition from Interact to Rotaract to Rotary fosters a sense of belonging and continuity within the Rotary family. Members develop lifelong friendships, professional connections, and a deep understanding of Rotary's mission to advance goodwill and peace worldwide. As these individuals grow and assume leadership roles within Rotary clubs, they bring fresh perspectives, innovative ideas, and a renewed commitment to service, enriching the organization and its impact on communities globally.

By nurturing the Kideract members, as well as Interact clubs, we are investing in the future of service leadership. Through mentorship programs, workshops, and collaborative projects with Rotary clubs, young individuals receive guidance and support as they navigate their journey towards becoming Rotarians. This seamless progression allows for continuity in values and objectives, ensuring that the spirit of Rotary remains vibrant and relevant across generations.

Let us reach out to our Kideractors and Interactors on their path.
